

S. Dirk Anderson, CRISC, CISA, QSA, ASV
Vice President, Enterprise Risk & Compliance

Mr. Anderson has over 20 years of experience in the field of information technology and extensive knowledge in the development of policy and awareness programs for multi-national corporations. His broad range of experience - from managing multi-million dollar budgets to highly technical roles - gives Anderson a unique skill set to successfully manage the integration of business and technology. Prior to his professional services consulting roles at Coalfire, where he has also served as Practice Lead and Managing Director, Anderson held numerous positions including chief security architect, director of global security architecture, and manager of information security and Internet systems. He regularly presents at industry events and was a contributing author to "Security 2020: Reduce Security Risks This Decade," the original SANS Incident Response Step-by-Step Guide as well as author of multiple white papers.